"King Aurthur Joke"

King ~~A~~urthur had to leave so he called Sir Lancelot in and told him to choose six other knights besides himself to go in one day a week and check on the queen to make sure she had everything she needed. Sir Lancelot agreed to do this. The night before the king left, he installed a chastity belt on the queen. It was like any other belt, but with a hole in the center, and when anything went thru the hole, it was like a guillotine. When the king returned from his journey he asked the seven knights to line up and drop their drawers. All the Knights had very good excuses for their unfortunate accidents except Sir Lancelot, he was speechless.

I heard this from Grant Tyree, age 18, in my home at 2926 Travis, GAFB, Peru, Indiana on April 5, 1968. Grant was born in Sna Francisco, California. His father is in the U. S. Air Force and Grant has travelled all over the States with his family. He graduated from Maconaquah High School which is near Peru, Indiana. He is now a Freshman at Kansas Wesleyan Unisversity in Salina, Kansas.
